Tartar Teen Talk

The Key Clubbers and their dates picnicked in San Diego last Sunday. Beginning the day with a pancake breakfast at Tom Quaggin's home, the picnickers assembled at San Diego zoo. The remainder of the day was spent eating, swimming at Coronado, and changing tires on Eddie Shaw's car. Enjoying this day of play were Tom Quaggin and Barbara Hester, Ben Beogh and Becky Jones, Eddie Shaw and Linda Williams, Ollie Lessin and Judy Clark, Vic Masaki and Nancy O'Hara, Don Kelley and Gwen Chaffin, Carl Hoybye and Rosemary Hill, Steve Smith and Marilyn Johnson, Jim Weyant and Mardel Clayton, Jim Kasterko and Penny Benard, and Leo Younger and Teri Akers.

The third annual Spring Music Festival took place last Friday night in the auditorium. The show, directed by Glen Hawley and James Nichols, featured the Tartar band, Tartar choir, girls' glee, and the high school orchestra.

The Boys' League was treated to a ping-pong exhibition in the gym last week. Stan and Bob Fields showed the student body how championship ping-pong is played.

Given a 16-point handicap, exchange student Carl Hoybye was able to win over Bob in a close game.

The demonstration was climaxed by an exciting doubles match when Louis Bereskin and Stan Fields played Tony Hartwig and Bob Fields. This game was won by the boys.
